

Internship Is Talked By Lair

Randall County Criminal District Attorney A. W. Lair, who isn't seeking re-election, believes the candidate who wins the race for his office should serve a part time internship until he officially assumes the post.

"I think it should be done," Lair told the County Commissioners this week. "And I don't think they should be expected to put in a lot of time for nothing. I assume they both have to make a living."

The Democratic candidates are George Dowlen and Truett Hull, Jr. They have no Republican opposition.

The winner, Lair suggested, should at least be paid on a per diem basis for part time work.

"I think we are very fortunate in this county to have the calibre of men asking for the office," the district attorney said. "But it must be pointed out that neither of these young men has ever handled a felony case."

The commissioners took no action on Lair's recommendation.

The district attorney also suggested an assistant will be needed in the office after the first of the year.

"It may be," he added, "that the man who runs second could be appointed an assistant district attorney."

An assistant's salary, he said, should be a minimum of $5,400 a year.

Lair said he doesn't believe "the new man could handle the cases without an assistant."

Lair reminded the panel the county now has a population of some 40,000 persons.

"I'm doing the prosecuting all the way from the district court through the justice court," he said. "There are nine men in Amarillo doing the same thing I am."

Lair said he feels the present salary scale -- $7,500 -- is low.

"Perhaps you should pay the district attorney say $12,000 to $18,000 a year," he said, "and prohibit him from doing anything else. It would make for better government -- for better everything."

Lair said a "young man will serve a four-year term for $7,500 -- but then he's going to check it with you" because he can earn more in private practice.

The district attorney said there are more than 500 criminal cases in the county each year.

In other action, the commissioners advertised for bids for new metal casement windows for the courthouse. They are expected to cost some $31,000.

The court also accepted the addition to the courthouse annex in South Amarillo.

Ray Campbell Gets Loose From One Job

Ray Campbell, erect and friendly, is leaving the grocery field after 48 years, but he says he isn't retiring.

"I just got loose from one job," he adds. "I've got plenty to do. Fact of the business, I don't know when I'll find time to go fishing."

Campbell, who has been identified with the grocery business in Canyon since he came here in 1914 from Wichita Falls, sold his Buffalo Food Store to Jack Haines last month.

"There weren't more than 1,100 people in Canyon when I moved here," he says.

Since then, though, he's seen Canyon grow to a population of 6,200. His civic activities have been responsible for much of that growth.

He and his brother-in-law, the late S. B. Orton, were initially associated in the old East End Grocery.

Campbell moved two blocks east of the present location in 1922, where the store remained until 1940, when he moved to the present site on Fourth Avenue.

Campbell has left Canyon only once -- in 1918 -- for a stint in the Army. He returned to organize the American Legion in 1919.

Gerald New Group Head

Charles Gerald has been elected president of district 26 of the North Texas Producers Association.

Members from six area counties met here Tuesday night and also named Richmond Hales vice president and Louis G. Hinders as district director.

J. O. Woodman of Arlington, general manager, addressed the group.

The association discussed the milk pricing outlook.

Representatives were present from Randall, Potter, Deaf Smith, Swisher, Castro and Donley counties.

Water Main Hit And Man-Made Spout Results

There was a temporary, man-made water spout at Twenty-sixth Street and Thirteenth Avenue last week.

It occurred when Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. workmen were setting telephone poles, drilling through the city's six-inch water main in two places.

Witnesses reported the water squirted some 50 feet into the air, falling onto Bill Sellers' house.

City Manager Bill York said the only damage was to the main -- set at $50 -- and it was repaired quickly.

Service Slated

A Sunrise Service sponsored by the Canyon Christian Youth Council will be held in Palo Duro Canyon at 6 o'clock Sunday.

The Rev. John Lars Hamer, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will deliver the sermon.

The public is invited. There will be no charge to enter the park.

Dates Told For Summer Term At WT

An expanded schedule plus workshops and special programs have been announced for the summer terms at West Texas State College.

The first term will open June 4 and close July 13. The second term will be held from July 17 through August 24.

Special events slated during the summer include:

The Tenth Annual West Texas Music Camp, July 15-27, for several hundred area high school musicians.

A high school speech workshop, July 1-13, for forensics and drama.

The annual reading conference, August 14-16, sponsored by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading.

A reading clinic for children with reading disabilities, July 17-August 22.

Summer theatre shows, directed by William A. Moore, will be staged in the Branding Iron Theatre through the Palo Duro Players' 13th season.

Among work conferences with college credit scheduled by the Education Department are "Improvement in Counseling," June 5-22; "Aero-Space Education Workshop," June 25-July 13; "Supervision of Student Teaching," Aug. 6-10; and "Teaching Machines and Programmed Learning," July 30-Aug. 3.

Campbell has participated in Chamber of Commerce work since 1922, "when I started paying my dues." He's been at it ever since -- for 40 years.

"I paid my monthly dues until April of this year," he says, "and I will keep my regular membership."

Campbell has been equally active with the goings-on at West Texas State College.

He helped organize the Buffalo Club -- now the Buffalo T-Club -- in 1927 and actively supported the fund to erect the new Buffalo Stadium. Campbell also lists the Buck-A-Month Club among his WT activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell's two girls attended WT two years each before going to other Texas schools. Mrs. Campbell is from Chillicothe, Mo.

"I have no regrets," Campbell says. "Canyon is the best town in the country."

So The People May Know (AN EDITORIAL)

Last week The Canyon News ran a story on Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, religious emphasis week speaker at West Texas State College. Those who care to refresh their memory on the details are referred to that edition.

The resulting uproar in the college press was little more than a diversionary tactic designed to divert public attention from the fact that those responsible for investigating the background of the speaker fell down on the job.

Dr. Brown was invited to Canyon by Dr. James P. Cornette, WT president. Dr. Cornette admits his knowledge of the speaker's background was scanty.

J. M. Willson, Floydada lumberman who foots the bill, said he has absolutely no say in picking such speakers. Mr. Willson, in a letter released to The News this week, said he saw Dr. Brown for the first time when he met him on the WT campus.

Mr. Willson went even further, urging public protest to unsuitable lecturers brought to the college campus.

The News interviewed Dr. Brown at his motel room Wednesday afternoon of last week. The lecturer was supplied with a typewritten sheet setting forth four charges made by a Cincinnati publication.

Present for the interview was Gene McGlasson, a respected Canyon attorney, lay religious leader and former Randall County attorney.

Dr. Brown, who holds a doctorate and lectures for hours without the benefit of notes, said he was unable to remember if he had anything to do with the activities with which the Cincinnati publication linked his name.

Our news story of last week set forth this fact. We reiterate our position that the people attending the lectures had a right to know the background of the speaker. This seems to be the major point of disagreement between Dr. Cornette and the management of The Canyon News.

We contend that every taxpayer has a right to know the background of those who speak at the institution for which their tax money is spent to support.

Mr. McGlasson looked over the story before it was printed. It was his stated opinion that the story was fair, factual and of vital concern to the public.

The college newspaper was in possession of the facts set forth here. The editor of the publication interviewed the publisher of The News two days before the college newspaper went to press with last Friday's edition.

Not one word of the publisher's statement on the position of The Canyon News was printed in the college publication. In addition to this, copies of the college newspaper were mailed at state expense to some non-subscribers.

We feel that this was done as a propaganda measure unlawfully and at taxpayer expense. We feel that this itself is inexcusable.

The college publication has made it appear that The News has attacked West Texas State College. Nothing could be further from the truth.

We are certain that Dr. Cornette feels we question his judgment. If this is his feeling, he is correct.

However, the person of Dr. James P. Cornette is a far cry from being West Texas State College. Dr. Cornette is an employee of this state and his actions are subject to question by ANY taxpayer.

If nothing else has been accomplished, the publication of last week's story on the controversial speaker should result in more diligence in investigation of those who come to the WT campus to lecture.

The Canyon News has no desire to forbid the right to lecture to anyone. We do believe that the lives of those who presume to do so should be an open book.

Let there be no doubt as to the position of The Canyon News. Regardless of personal cost we shall not shrink from duty as we have the light to see our duty.

Clark Isn't, Horses Were

Clark Jarnagin isn't snake-bit, but three of his horses were.

So he went whole-hog, as it were.

He got himself a hog, and let it loose in the pasture to hunt for the snake which bit his horses. As of last reports, the hog was still rooting.

For the record, the horses, which required veterinarian attention, are recovering.

Haley Talks Down South

Evett Haley, Jr., who is running for Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, was on the campaign trail in deep south Texas this week.

Haley started the week in the highly productive area of Harlingen, Weslaco and McAllen.

Haley, in a telephone call to Canyon Monday, said he was inspired by a Monday morning editorial endorsement of his candidacy by The Dallas Morning News.

He said he has met with widespread dissatisfaction with incumbent John White.

Reporter To Speak At WTSC Assembly

Edward Hunter, whose testimony sparked the probe into Pentagon and State Department censors muzzling military officers' speeches, will address West Texas State College students this morning.

Hunter, a foreign correspondent for almost 40 years, will speak before the WT assembly at 10 o'clock in the auditorium.

He will deliver another lecture at 8 o'clock tonight in the Municipal Auditorium in Amarillo.

Hunter has been referred to as "the free world's outstanding authority on brainwashing." He was the first to use the word in writing in any language.

In 1956, after interviewing American prisoners of war released by the Chinese Communists in the Korean War, he wrote two books--"Brainwashing in Red China" and "Brainwashing: The Story of the Men who Defied It."

The factual information contained in those accounts served as the basis for indoctrination courses for U.S. troops in the subtle strategy of brainwashing. It also has been credited with preparing American military personnel for Communist cruelties under captivity.

Hunter recalls:

"My career paralleled the development of modern psychological warfare. I saw the creation of the puppet state of Manchukuo, was in Ethiopia for the conquest of that country by the Fascists, and witnessed two Spanish civil wars."

"I covered the various foreign offices in Europe from Wilhelmstrasse and 10 Downing Street to the Quai D'Orsay, on the eve of World War II, and saw the elements that were building up into a psychological warfare pattern."

He was with the U. S. Forces in the China-Burma-India theater from Pearl Harbor to V-J Day. Hunter was with the Office of Strategic Services for two years.

Hunter has testified repeatedly before both the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and the House Un-American Activities Committee.

He has also appeared before that subcommittee in connection with the current drive to discredit anti-Communist organizations. He showed that this attack was ordered by the World Convention of Communist Parties in Moscow on Dec. 5, (See REPORTER, page 2)

Survivors include his wife, Lethel, of Canyon; a son, the Rev. A. B. Duncan, Frisco, Texas; a grandchild, Courtney, of Amarillo; two brothers, C. V. of Amarillo and Mark W. of Sanderson; six sisters, Mrs. Maude Hollums, Floydada; Mrs. John Hammonds, Floydada; Mrs. Fred Brown, Floydada; Mrs. Sam Hale, Floydada; Mrs. Charley Watkins, Lubbock; and Mrs. Joe Pitts, Amarillo.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery. LaGrone Funeral Chapel was in charge.

Elementary, Junior High Work Slated

By WILLIAM PEART
Canyon's elementary school will be expanded and the junior high facilities renovated under a $600,000 bond issue approved 290-37 last week.

The Board of Trustees of the Canyon Independent School District has sold the 21-year bonds to Columbia Securities Corporation of Texas at an interest rate averaging 3.58026 per cent.

"The interest rate is lower now than it would have been a year ago," Bob Davis, Columbian representative, told the trustees in regular meeting Tuesday night.

The interest rate will actually average 3.53 per cent, he said, since the school district will not be obligated to pay his firm a consulting fee.

"It is a turn key job," Davis said.

He pointed out the district has a "very good -- B--AA-- bond rating."

Present plans call for expanding the present elementary facilities north. First, second and third grade students would attend classes in the present building, pupils in the other grades in the new addition.

Work at the junior high school will include a new cafeteria in the present south gymnasium.

A Citizens Committee has recommended that new elementary quarters be available for September of 1963.

Hilltop Views

Next Saturday, April 21, will be the 126th anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto—a small military engagement as military engagements go. As to the number of men involved and the volume or kind of equipment used it was less than a grain of sand when compared either with former or subsequent battles.

But in the matter of issues involved and results that flowed from it the significance of that battle is incalculable. To substantiate that statement we submit the following:

The United States purchased the Louisiana territory in 1803, thus extending its boundaries on the south to the then Spanish border, roughly the present western boundary of Louisiana. American adventurers and fortune seekers gradually infiltrated the Mexican Province of Texas, which was very thinly populated (by Mexicans) at its southern and western extremities.

In 1821 Mexico threw off the Spanish yoke and Texas was united with Coahuila, a Mexican state. For more than a decade of independence Mexico was afflicted with revolution after revolution. Texans did not like this. They had been accustomed to fairly stable government. Racial, linguistic, and religious differences made Texans and Mexicans incompatible. It was inevitable, then, that these cultural differences should sooner or later be reflected in law and government. Anglo-American concepts of liberty, democracy, and individual sovereignty could not long endure the totalitarian, revolutionary government of Mexico.

This situation was aggravated by the fact that immigrants from the United States were pouring into Texas after Spain surrendered Texas to Mexico. Moses Austin of St. Louis in 1820 obtained from Mexico permission to settle 300 American colonists in Texas, but died before he could put his plan into effect. His son, Stephen F. Austin, took over and was quickly followed by other American colonizers. This led Mexicans to believe that the United States had designs on Texas—a perfectly natural suspicion. In ten years after Mexico gained her independence, it was estimated that there were some 30,000 or more Anglo-Americans in Texas.

Without reciting further details it is sufficient to note here that out of the above conditions there came petitions, conventions, resolutions, protests from the freedom-loving Texans only to be answered by arbitrary laws and dictatorial edicts from Mexico. Gradually armed conflict began and the Texas Revolution was on its way (1835). For months Texans were losing the war. The Mexican dictator, Santa Anna, decided to go to Texas, take personal command of the Mexican forces, and stamp out revolution.

In the meantime a convention of Texans was held at Washington on the Brazos and on March 2, 1836, a Texas Declaration of Independence was adopted. It followed closely the ideology of the American Declaration, and in some places the terminology. Its indictment of Mexico included the following:

"It (Mexico) has failed and refused to secure, on a firm basis, the right of trial by jury—"

"It has failed to establish any public system of education—"

"although it is an axiom in political science that, unless a people are educated and enlightened, it is idle to expect the continuance of civil liberty, or the capacity for self-government."

"It has suffered the military commandants stationed among us to exercise arbitrary acts of oppression and tyranny—"

"It denies us the right of worshipping the Almighty according to the dictates of our consciences, by the support of a national religion calculated to promote the temporal interests of its human functionaries rather than the glory of the true and living God."

"It has been—"

"the contemptible sport and victim of successive military revolutions, and hath continually exhibited every characteristic of a weak, corrupt and tyrannical government—"

These and other indictments made it clear that Anglo-Texans believed in and would die for, if necessary, their unalienable rights to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." Furthermore, they made clear the nature and disposition of despotic government in whatever area of human affairs it occurs.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

In lieu of a column this week we are running a sampling of letters we received in connection with a controversial story published last week in The Canyon News.

We received only one letter of dissent. We give it top billing.

We received so many letters in support of our stand that space will not permit running all of them.

Dear Troy,
As a personal friend of yours, I must admit that I was disappointed and embarrassed to see the article you chose to write on Dr. Kenneth I. Brown. I was disappointed that you felt a man's "reported" activities of ten years ago were justification for the article you wrote.

I was embarrassed that a guest of the college and a visitor in our community was greeted in such a manner, a manner which I certainly feel was grossly unjustified.

Lately, it would appear that certain of the non-educators in this community feel that they know better who should address the student than the educators who are here for the purpose of guiding our students.

In America, we still have a policy and spirit that a man is innocent until proven guilty. It is not my idea of the American way of life to hold a man responsible today for the possible mistakes of ten years ago.

My question to you today is this: "How would you have covered the visit of the Apostle Paul to your community ten years after his conversion?"

Sincerely,
Dave Lipscomb
How would Mr. Lipscomb have us cover a visit by Tokyo Rose or Axis Sally?

Dear Sir:

We have your inquiry about the lecturer. We have heard this man one time at Canyon the first day. We have read a book that he published on the Southwestern University lectures 1960. We know nothing of the history of the man. We have over 20 lectures each year. The government will not allow us deductions on Income Tax should we hold any strings on same. We did not pick the men to lecture and we hear very few of them. The money is mostly handled as a foundation by the General Board of Education, Nashville, Tenn. They invest and send direct to the institutions the profit each year. The institutions can have as they choose anyone they desire. We are concerned about the men, but if they choose a woman or a man on the lecturing and they don't agree with us, of course we feel bad. We cannot in any way control the college but we would hope that the public would make protests of any thing the college makes a mistake on.

I could not, if I wanted to, investigate over 20 men or women on the background because I am a poor man and have to make a living. I am surely hoping that we don't have men or women we people can't

O.K.
I think you should write Dr. Cornette about the matter. He is a dedicated Christian and a good President, I think.

Sincerely
J. M. Willson

Sir:
I appreciate greatly the role you have taken in Canyon of standing up for right even though you, at times, may feel alone.

Thanks,

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

There are times when art covers too many subjects and it seems imperative to mention several of these because of the date, importance and a necessity.

The first subject is Easter, one of the most beautiful holidays of the year. We think of all the lovely colors, the bright Easter eggs, the colorful bunnies, ducks, and chickens and other artistic connections to this day. This is one of the most heart-lifting of all holidays because we feel that at this time some of the cold of yesterday is disappearing and perhaps some of the new warmth will reflect in sunnier dispositions.

Another almost forgotten celebration will be remembered

Jimmy Dale Killingsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Killingsworth, has completed Basic Training at Ft. Carson, Colo., and is in Canyon on a two-week leave. He will depart on April 26th for Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., where he will attend the 8 week Army Administration School. Jimmy Dale is a 1961 graduate of Canyon High, and attended West Texas State before entering the Army.

Just Sort Of...

Uncle Albert's closet was a bag - of - tricks, Aladdin's lamp and Christmas, all spun into a neat, adventurous five-by-five feet package in my hometown of Alexandria.

To me -- aged six through 15 -- it was an elegant square. Five shelves kissed each of the three walls as they stretched towards a way-up-there ceiling. Each was crammed to overflowing with the sort of things Kids Live For.

I was still sporting knickers and high socks when Uncle Albert first ushered me into the closet which was to become My Friend off-and-on for nine never-a-worry years.

"Have a look around, Billy (it was always Billy, never Bill, not even after I became a pappy)," he told this red-head. "There are some wonderful things here."

And he backed away, pushing the door tight as he did. My Friend had individuality.

An electric cord hung proudly from the high ceiling, and the then-new bulb at its end winked at me and whispered a welcome.

Right off, just like that, my friend and I had an understanding.

I tugged at a short folding ladder in a corner and started exploring.

I found snow-shoes--Uncle Albert, short, dapper and kind, was from Canada, and he was a pack rat of sorts -- and mounted butterflies. There were dueling pistols and fishing nets, spats and World War II leggings, Shriners gear and a musty racing saddle.

There were cookie jars--but no cookies -- and khaki jackets. And I pulled a stuffed fox from a deep recess on a top shelf.

I found a massive silver buckle, heavily engraved and tarnished. Uncle Albert told me later his folks carried it over with them from England when they settled in Canada. He never told me why they did--or whose it was. Looking back, I don't think he even knew it was in My Friend's bosom.

More often than not, Uncle Albert would say:

"Well, Billy, you've done your searching for today. You've got your pick of something in the closet to take home. What'll it be?"

I was at least just sort of timid, and I'd always put my grubby hands on something I figured Uncle Albert wanted to get rid of anyway.

I never tired of poking my nose into that closet, and wrapping a fist around the light cord and using it as flashlight as I looked for new treasures.

The sessions with My Friend didn't end abruptly. Rather, they tapered off gradually as I sprouted taller.

Then, of course, I discovered Girls, and it wasn't too long before My Friend and I drifted apart.

I was 22 the last time we had a get-together.

I was back in Alexandria from Memphis, where I was newspapering for The Commercial Appeal. I reckoned I should pay my respects to the closet -- to My Friend -- who had been my ally as I was growing up.

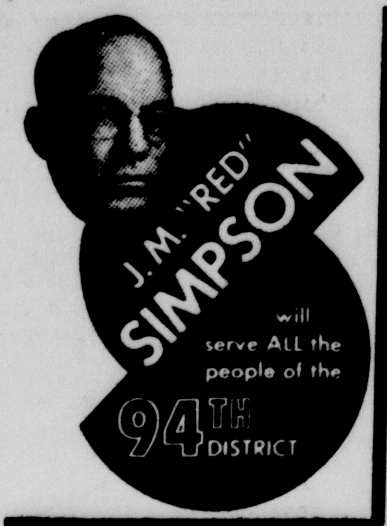

To me, nothing had changed. I stepped into the closet, twisted the light bulb on, and silently pulled the door shut.

And as I turned around, the bulb -- now old-fashioned and dim -- winked at me and whispered a welcome.

I grinned back -- a sober sort of grin -- and said, aloud: "It's good to be here, My Friend."

Communion Is Slated

Holy Thursday Communion Service will be held at First Presbyterian Church tonight, at 7:30 p.m., with the Senior Choir leading in the musical part of the service, directed by Royal Brantley, Director of Music.

The Westminster Choir, directed by Mrs. W. R. Wilson, will sing two numbers, "Tis Midnight, And On Olive's Brow," and "Christ, We Do All Adore Thee," during the Tenebrae Service on Good Friday Evening, beginning at 7 p.m. The ushering will be done by the Senior Hi Youth. Assisting in the Tenebrae Ceremony ("Tenebrae" means "darkness") will be the Junior Fellowship members, Chris Blasdel, John Harper, Susan Read, Dena Nicholas, Martha Harper, Kay Nester, Roger Wilson, with Debbie Wright being the bearer of the Christ candle.

Ray Campbell totals a grocery bill shortly before selling his store. He was in the grocery business here almost 48 years.

In Nebraska, an almost treeless state, the start of Arbor Day so aroused the citizens that over a million trees were planted in 1872. In 1885 it was made a legal holiday on April 22 to commemorate Julius Sterling Morton's birthday. Kansas and Tennessee started in 1875. Minnesota in 1876, Ohio in 1882, West Virginia in 1883. Then the excitement of the idea grew and in the next 5 years 26 states or territories adopted the plan!

It's been many years since Amarillo Public Schools planted Thompson Park. Groups went by buses to plant trees. Each child had a tree and an interesting ceremony was held, even while the sand of the newly plowed park blew in great gusts, but it stands as a pretty important memory for those who took part.

When I think back to our first year in Canyon, I remember the college as two big buildings surrounded by two smaller buildings of stucco, for music practice and crafts. There were bid metal railings around the campus grounds. This was only a short twelve years ago. Now when you drive around WTSC, see the great improvements, the changes, the

Canyon Issues Work Permits

The City of Canyon issued the following construction permits from April 10 through April 18:

April 11: New residence, 2415 Eighth Ave., $27,500 plus $2,500 for lot. Henry C. Warren of Borger, owner.

April 11: New residence, 518 Eleventh Ave., $13,000 plus $1,200 for lot. M. B. Sims of Canyon, owner.

Importance of having a college here to make Canyon a very special town, you can be very proud.

We have the good luck of having an influx of students here from many places so that we can become more familiar with other towns, countries, or states.

All of our Canyon merchants are aware of the great economic success that comes from having this good regional school in our midst. The florist feels a part of the prom as he makes hundreds of corsages. The ready-to-wear stores, the record stores, the refreshment places have the constant support of our college, too.

Yes, it is "More Than Brick and Mortar", it is our good fortune that we know of the history, the high standards, the integrity and loyalty of all that has kept our college growing at this fast pace and so now at Easter Time we wish to pay tribute to this West Texas State College, one of the truly fine colleges of our State of Texas.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the Ministerial Alliance of Canyon has joined together to unite all faiths represented in a special Easter service; and

WHEREAS, all citizens of Canyon are invited and urged to attend and participate in this service; and

WHEREAS, it is felt this united service will be of spiritual benefit to all those who attend;

NOW THEREFORE, I, DELBERT E. LOWES, Mayor of the City of Canyon, do hereby proclaim Friday, April 20, 1962 as in the City of Canyon and do urge all citizens to attend this service at 1:00 p.m. in the All Saints Episcopal Church.

Signed this 18th day of April, 1962.

D. E. Lowes Mayor

Rites Held

Funeral services for the first school teacher at Happy were held Monday in the First Methodist Church there.

Mrs. Sara Ann Rose Whitman, 77, died in Swisher County Hospital in Tulla. She had been a resident of Happy since 1904.

Mrs. Whitman was a member of First Presbyterian Church, Eastern Star and Women's Study Club.

Services were conducted by The Reverend James C. Willet, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Happy. Lewis Koerselman of the First Presbyterian Church, Tulla, assisted.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery and was directed by LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Survivors are a son, Gill, of Castle Rock, Colorado; a daughter, Mrs. Earl B. (Lou Rose) Cosby of Tulla; seven grandsons, one granddaughter and five great great grandchildren.

Hilltop....

Just four days after this Declaration came the tragedy in the Alamo, the story of which has chilled Texans hearts from that day to this. There followed immediately a series of Mexican victories that produced consternation--Sam Houston in hasty retreat and Santa Anna in hot pursuit. On April 21, the issue was settled by the battle of San Jacinto. The overwhelming victory of Sam Houston and the capture of "the Napoleon of the West" continues to thrill Texas hearts to this day. Once again tyranny and freedom had met on the battlefield and once again the cause of man had triumphed. The Texas Declaration of Independence had been vindicated and so far as its meaning is concerned the battle of San Jacinto has long since taken its place in the files of time alongside Yorktown and other decisive battles of the world.

Had the Texas Revolution failed who can tell us what the subsequent history of Texas, of Mexico, of the United States, or, for that matter, of the world might have been? We can believe with confidence that the spirit of liberty would have survived in the world because it is a child of an all-wise and all-powerful Providence, but we shudder to think of the price that mankind would have paid. This fact gives San Jacinto world-wide importance.

RE-ELECT Judge Meade F. GRIFFIN to Supreme Court PLACE NO. 1

Endorsed by the lawyers of Texas in their Bar Poll by a vote of 5,155 to 643. The lawyers in Judge Griffin's home county of Hale voted unanimously for him. Lawyers in his opponent's home county of Potter voted 75 to 17 in favor of Judge Griffin. Ask your attorney who is best qualified to serve on the Supreme Court.

Architect Clayton Shriver appeared before the board and outlined preliminary plans. He estimated the junior high cafeteria equipment will cost some $8,000.

"If we could get the new cafeteria by next term," member Jerry LaGrone commented, "it would be real nice."

In other action, the trustees approved graduating requirements for college preparatory and terminal students.

The former were upgraded in keeping with the present educational trend. The latter is an innovation.

College preparatory requirements will be:

English, four units; mathematics, two units (algebra I and geometry or algebra II); world history, one unit; American history, one unit; government, one unit; science, two units (a. general physical science; b. biology); physical education, two units, plus electives.

Terminal requirements -- that is, for students not planning to attend college -- will be:

English, at least three units but must take English each year; mathematics, two units (general math and algebra I; change to related math I and II as soon as books are available in these courses); world history, one unit; American history, one unit; government, one unit; science, one unit (a life science and earth science -- 65 clock hours each in grades seven and eight), no credit; b. general physical science; physical education, two units; electives nine units.

The trustees also approved a recommendation that the typing laboratory fee for 1962-63 be increased from $1.50 to $2.50 a semester and the shorthand fee from $1.50 to $3.00 a year.

Behind-the-wheel instruction in driver education was discussed. It will be considered further at the next meeting, April 24.

Intra-State Rates Lower

A reduction in rates on certain long distance telephone calls within Texas -- including some to and from Canyon -- will become effective May 20.

In general, the rate reduction will apply to station-to-station and person-to-person calls of more than 198 miles, Gene Adkisson of Borger, manager of Southwestern Bell, said.

The reduced rates will apply to nearly 17 million calls a year, he said, and save telephone users more than $2.5 million a year.

The reduction will range from five to 15 cents for a three-minute call.

Adkisson pointed out the reduction does not apply to calls to other states or to "short-distance" calls within the state.

Happy Man Serving With Army At Hood

Army PFC Charles F. Cogburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Cogburn, Route 2, Happy, participated in Exercise Track-down, a 12-day joint Army-Air Force training maneuver, at Fort Hood.

Cogburn, 20-year-old radio operator in Company D. of the Second Armoured division's 41st Infantry at Fort Hood, is a 1960 graduate of Morton High School. He is married.

Maggie Stephens, a Canyon High School cheerleader, demonstrates a jump to would-be cheerleaders. Tryouts will be held in the high school gymnasium at a special assembly of the 8-11 grades on April 25.

Diversion Terraces Helpful

The Soil Conservation Service reminds Randall County farmers that now is the time to start thinking about spring rains.

"If your field is washing or is likely to wash," the service says, "a diversion terrace may be the answer to your erosion problems."

The service adds: "The diversion terrace will carry the runoff water from your farm on a gentle grade to a protected outlet and prevent gullying below the diversion for approximately 200 feet."

"If washing still occurs, a system of standard terraces will be needed to control the erosion. If you do not have an adequate outlet, a waterway may be needed before the diversion and terraces are constructed."

The service, assisting the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District, has designed diversions recently for Forrest Gruner, C. V. Wilkinson and Beaumont Stinnett. Additional information and assistance in layout and terrace design may be had from the SCS in the Randall County Courthouse.

Club's Fair For Schools Set

West Texas State College's Industrial Arts Club will hold its annual fair for high and junior high school students in the Student Union Building May 3-5.

"The main purpose of the fair is to give the industrial arts students of this area an opportunity to show, in competition, what they have accomplished during the school year," Craig Johnson, club sponsor, said.

"The other reason is to give business concerns an opportunity to bring before the public many new products, which are of interest to the craftsman, students and teachers."

Some 300 students were entered in last year's show. A $100 college scholarship is awarded the senior student with the best project.

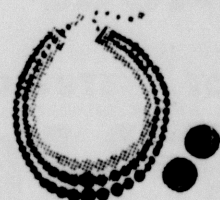

Dr. Robert Pendergraft, head of the department of engineering at Eastern New Mexico University, will address the fair at 1 p.m. May 4 on "Technical Education."

WT Golfers Top Aggies

West Texas State golfers outstroked the Panhandle A&M Aggies 10-2 in a non-conference match Monday in Guymon, Oklahoma.

The previous week Buff golfers defeated the A&M team 11 1/2 to 1/2 in a dual match. West Texas' Danny Neese beat Bob Wilson, 72-74, Jim Curtsinger of WT, defeated Bruce Bramlett, 79-82 and Jimmy Holmes, also of WT, bested Russ Boyer, 73-78. Another Buffalo team member, Kenneth Barnett, outshot Don DeSpain, 75-84.

Livestock rolled into Canyon last week for the collegiate rodeo. Cowpokes came from far and wide to compete for prize money, trophies and belt buckles. Now, to this cowardly fellow there is no tougher money to earn than riding a wild Brahma bull, a kicking horse or by bulldogging a lop-eared steer.

The real live cowboy is a different breed of animal than most of us. He is not satisfied with competition among his fellow man but must seek it with the four-legged. It is true that football bangs a young man about but surely not like a two-ton bull.

And imagine yourself leaping from a horse running at break-neck speed, to grab a galloping steer about the horns to throw his heavy carcass to the ground.

There may be a pile of money in that great sport, but every thin dime is earned. And this writer will never earn a single copper in the arena.

Canyon youngsters who will participate in Babe Ruth League competition this year hit the diamond last week to prepare for the coming season. Twenty-three kids were at the park, running dashes and working out. Additional practice sessions are on tap in anticipation of the umpires' call of "play ball." As in the past, league officials are looking forward to a successful season.

All-Sports Banquet Set At WT

The winningest college basketball coach of all time, Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, will be the guest speaker at West Texas State's annual All-Sports banquet Tuesday.

In 32 years at Kentucky, Rupp has won 668 games and lost only 125 for a phenomenal 84.2%.

His accomplishments include winning 20 Southeastern Conference championships in 30 years, taking the NCAA national title four times, grabbing one NIT crown, four Sugar Bowl Tournament titles, and being named to basketball's Hall of Fame.

The "Baron," who has seen 20 of his Kentucky pupils make All-American, played at Kansas under the veteran Phog Allen.

The banquet will honor all athletes at West Texas State. The Kleinschmidt trophies, the President's Award and the Rotary Fighting Heart Award will be given.

A few tickets will be available to the public at $2.50 each. The 7:30 p.m. affair will be in the West Texas State Cafeteria.

Tech Takes Rodeo Title

The Texas Tech cowboys rode away from here last week with the championship trophy for winning regional competition in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo.

The Red Raider team compiled 545 points compared to 485 for the second place Sul Ross cowhands.

Tech's Edd Workman was named All Round Cowboy.

Sul Ross packed away top honors in the girls division. The win came almost exclusively on the number of entries from the Alpine school. The other colleges entered only one contestant each.

Events and winners were:

Bareback -- Edd Workman, Tech.

Bull Riding -- Pete Lewis, Sul Ross

Saddle Bronc -- Edd Workman, Tech

Steer Wrestling -- Jack Taylor, Hardin-Simmons University.

Calf Roping -- Dub Cox, New Mexico State University.

Barrel Race -- Donna Saul, Sul Ross.

WT Places 'Way Back'

The West Texas State College track team got more experience than points last week at the Texas Western Relays.

The Buff cindermen came home with five points and finished second from the bottom.

The University of Arizona won the meet with 87, Texas Western was second with 32 points.

Coach Howard White had said earlier most of his boys were not in top condition with the late completion of spring football workouts.

Nine colleges competed—Texas Western, New Mexico State, Texas Tech, McMurry, Sul Ross, Hardin-Simmons, Eastern New Mexico, New Mexico Highlands and West Texas.

WT's best race was the sprint relay in which it placed third. Running for the Buffaloes were Woody Prude, David McInturff, Earl West and Pete Pedro.

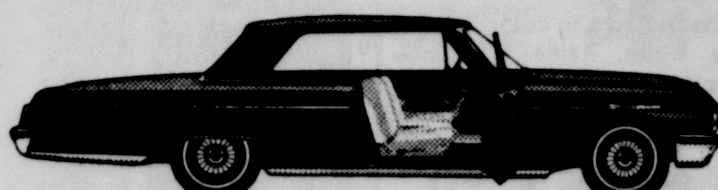

West was fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Track is over at Canyon High School. Even though none of the CHS thinclads advanced to the state meet at Austin, the season was most successful.

Coach "Jeep" Webb will have the nucleus of his team back next year and should enjoy another good season.

Webb was saying that Wayne

Rutherford almost made it in the pole vault. (In the regional meet this weekend at Lubbock Rutherford came in third best, and only the top two go to state.) The coach said his prize vaulter made things look easy until the bar was raised to near 12 feet.

On his first try, Rutherford was high enough, but the wind held him momentarily and he missed. On the second run, he knocked the bar off as he went over. His third attempt was said to be something less than graceful, and he knocked down the whole shooting match. What made the event even rougher for Rutherford was the fact he was beaten by a boy who placed second behind him in the district meet.

Ronnie Harris was the only other Canyon athlete to place. He was fourth in the discus and sixth in the shot put.

The eighth grade football team began working out Monday for two weeks of spring training. For a first-day drill, the young men looked extra sharp. Several of the boys have already grown out of their awkward stages into coordinated athletes. Coaches Webb and Chambless put the youngsters through a short but active drill and the response was commen-

Miss Banks Wins Dance

Miss Barbara Banks, a Canyon High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Banks, won first place in the Silver Division of the Southwest Dance Olympics in Houston.

Miss Banks, who performed a jazz cha-cha, competed against 18 other dancers.

She received her teaching certificate last fall and plans to study in California this summer. Jimmy Clements is her instructor in Amarillo.

Mrs. Banks and Mrs. W.V. Moore, Barbara's aunt, accompanied her to Houston for the contest.

Drive Names Jack Little

Jack Little, Assistant Trust Officer of The First National Bank of Amarillo, has been named Treasurer of the symphonic drama campaign. Little is a graduate of Texas Tech and the University of Texas School of Law. He has been active in the United Fund campaign and the Golden Spread Forensic Tournament.

Pupils Hold First '62 Tornado Drill

Canyon Elementary School pupils held their first tornado drill of the year last week.

Everything, apparently, went off just fine.

Principal Oscar Hinger pointed out parents should come after their children but said only he would have authority to release them.

Police would handle all traffic, he said.

Hinger listed these tornado precautions:

"1. Go to the area that has been designated for you. This will be important so that directions can be given parents as they come to find their children.

"2. Students must remain as quiet as possible so communication can be carried on.

"3. Students will need the security of their teacher's presence.

"4. Teachers should be on the alert for parents who will come after their children. Under no condition should children be permitted to leave the group without a parent.

"5. Each teacher will be responsible for windows being opened in their rooms. This is a very important safety factor.

"6. Custodians will open hall windows.

"7. Wait in designated area for all clear signal."

Concert Set Here May 7

Theodor Uppman will be here May 7.

The popular American baritone will sing in Canyon High School in a recital presented by Canyon Community Concert Association. The date was arranged after Uppman's scheduled appearance here March 26 was canceled due to his illness in Fort Worth.

Dr. Ples Harper, membership chairman of the association, said "It took some doing" to set up a second date for the singer's concert.

"We felt, however," Dr. Harper explains, "that we owed it to the membership to make every possible effort to get Uppman here, since it was partly on the strength of his coming that our campaign in the fall was such a success."

Dr. Joseph Findley is president of the association. Uppman's program will be the final presentation of concerts this season.

137 Randall Accidents Told To Patrol In 1961

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 125 of the 137 accidents reported in rural Randall County last year.

Those figures were released yesterday by C. A. Dempsey of the Safety Education Service, who also said 56 arrests were made for a percentage rate of 45.

An additional 12 accidents were reported but not investigated.

"In order for the three 'E's'—education, engineering and enforcement—to be carried out effectively," Dempsey said, "these accidents must be reported to the investigating authorities."

C. Y. JOHNSON

C. Y. Johnson Is Seeking Re-Election

C. Y. Johnson, County Commissioner of Randall County, Precinct #4, a South Amarillo businessman, announces for re-election subject to the Democratic primary, May 5, 1962, running solely and completely on his record in office.

Some of the highlights of his tenure of office, according to Mr. Johnson, of administration and programs that he has either sponsored or supported in Randall County are:

(a) For three consecutive years there have been tax reductions on both residential and business properties in South Amarillo and the City of Canyon which are a direct result of Commissioner Johnson's continuous campaign to equalize and lower County and State tax evaluations on both City property as compared to rural properties;

(b) On Mr. Johnson's motion the County and State personal property tax on the family automobile has been removed;

(c) Also on Mr. Johnson's motion Randall County Commissioners' Precincts have been re-aligned and redistricted with the result being a more just and representative County government;

(d) All primary highways in Randall County are now either Expressway type construction or four lane type facilities;

(e) A County office building has been constructed and paid for in South Amarillo and is presently being enlarged to provide additional offices and services for the fast growing part of the County. This construction has been paid for from current revenues;

(f) A modern jail has been constructed at Canyon. This facility was paid in full this year.

(g) A long-needed overpass on Washington Street across the Santa Fe Railroad is now under construction.

These increased services and expanded programs are the result of a sound, businesslike approach to County government which has permitted a simultaneous reduction in taxes for three consecutive years.

Mr. Johnson and his wife, Louise, reside at 3507 Milam Street. They have one son, Stewart, who is stationed at Fort Gordon, Georgia, being among the first group of reservists called for active duty last fall. Mr. Johnson is a veteran service station operator of more than 29 years.

Mr. Johnson is a past President of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas. He is a member of the South Amarillo Lions Club and has 14 years perfect attendance records there.

Mr. Johnson pledges to continue sound, business-like administration of the affairs of Randall County.

wrote C. Boone McClure, museum curator, "I have really boosted your museum and mean every word of it. I only hope to come back for a real visit and bring my family."

Daniel, who bought a small Mrs. Olive Bugbee painting during his visit, also wrote:

"I will present Mrs. Bugbee's name to be considered for the background mural (at the new museum in Austin) and hope you will do likewise as a member of this committee."

The governor also said he "would like for us to have a full-fledged Bugbee art exhibit later in the year, and I will talk with you about this when we meet again."

Many of Mrs. Bugbee's paintings are hanging in the museum here.
